Squirrel's Pathetic Search.

In moving some quilts in the cottage of Fred Hayden of Northwest Abbot, Me., five little squirrels were spilled on the floor, one of them being killed. The mother squirrel was quickly on the scene, taking one at a time and hastening upstairs with it. The fourth one she dropped at the foot of the stairs and rushed back with frantic haste, thoroughly looking over the contents of the room for the fifth one. She even climbed to the waists of the men and smelled their hands in her search for her lost baby.—Boston Globe.

LOTS OF LAUGHS AT CHAUTAUQUA

S. Platt Jones, Humorist and Monologist, Coming.

Watch for S. Platt Jones, the man that's going to "start something" on the opening night of the Chautauqua. Jones is that indescribable sort that a metropolitan reporter would call a "Scream." He is that and more—he is Chautauqua's most jovial prince of refined fun. S. Platt Jones is a prodigal of droll merriment. He gets under the crust. He "gets" every one, from the very young to the very old. Jones is a feast of fun, but of a propriety conformant with the dignity of the oldest inhabitant.
